

---

RESOURCES THAT OFFER PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT OPPORTUNITIES

---

NIH- National Institute of Health - training and resources about suicide, health risks etc.

<https://www.nih.gov/>

National Institute of Corrections- training and resources about how to interact with incarcerated individuals, system solutions etc.

<https://nicic.gov/>

Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention- all trainings and resources geared toward mentoring, supporting and assisting youthful offenders.

<https://ojjdp.ojp.gov/>

American Probation and Parole Association- trainings and resources relative to working with individuals on probation and parole, best practices, current trends and resources for services.

<https://www.appa-net.org/eweb>

New England Council on Crime and Delinquency- trainings and resources geared to any professional working with families, youth, adults and agencies that service at risk individuals.

<https://www.neccd.net/>

National Criminal Justice Training Center- Offers trainings and resources for anyone working with individuals in the criminal justice setting or system.

<https://ncjtc.fvtc.edu/>

NH Children's Trust-resources and trainings for any professional working with at risk children and families with the goal of improving their lives.

<https://www.nhchildrenstrust.org/>

Child Welfare Information Gateway- a great, comprehensive resource that informs practice, provides guidance and interventions for professionals working in the child welfare system.

<https://www.childwelfare.gov/>

National Child's Advocacy Center-provides training opportunities relative to interviewing and assessing children harmed and at risk in the child welfare system.

<https://www.nationalcac.org/>

NH Department of Administrative Services- resources and trainings for public speaking, computer literacy, conflict management and many other pertinent options.

<https://das.nh.gov/hr/trdev.html>